

Starting at the top of Inverie Pier, the Fun Loop climbs gently up through open ground before winding its way back down through open woodland on boardwalks and bermed single track back to the start. Aimed at fit bikers with basic off-road skills there are more technical options for the brave.

Knoydart's Mountain Bike Trails

Set amongst some of Scotland's most dramatic scenery these two linked trails take you high above the village of Inverie, through mature, open woodland and cleared, regenerating native woodland areas; with the opportunity to take in the views across Loch Nevis and the Small Isles and catch your breath at the top.

The riding itself includes a bit of everything: long steep climbs, fast descents into bermed and tight trails, technical rock features, drop offs, optional jumps, a staircase and single concrete sleepers before winding gently back down to the road.

There is something here to challenge most riders so take the time to walk and check out any of the features you're not sure of before riding them – Knoydart is very remote and the nearest medical help is 7 miles away by boat. There is no mobile phone signal, so always ride with a buddy or be sure to tell someone where you are going.

Knoydart's woods are popular with other users so stick to the way marked trails and forest roads and be prepared to meet & greet others along the way.

Skyline Trail 2300m

Red

difficult grade

Is this for you?

Suitable for: Proficient mountain bikers with good off road riding skills. Suitable for better quality off-road mountain bikes.

Trail and Surface Type: Steep and tough single track with technical sections. Expect very variable surface types.

Gradients and Technical Features: Wide range of climbs and descents of a challenging nature will be present. Expect boardwalks, berms, large rocks, steps, drop-offs, cambers and water crossings.

Suggested Fitness Level: High level of fitness and stamina.

Designed to be ridden one-way

Always wear safety clothing – at least helmet and gloves.

Always check your bike is suitable and safe. Check your brakes.

Continuing on from the Blue graded Fun Loop the Red graded Skyline Trail climbs steadily up Bob's New Road before turning off onto a wide path through mature coniferous woodland. This crosses over a burn before coming out into the open for a final big push up to the top and stunning views out over the loch. From here it's literally downhill all the way over an array of technical and fun features. Not for the faint hearted.
